WHERE TO BUY

Your QSL cards and other items of interest to Radio Amateurs

Because of numerous requests for sources of QSL cards, the CALLBOOK, as an additional service to radio amateurs, has reserved this section for dealers in QSL cards and other related products of special interest to hams. For ease in locating the QSL card dealer of your choice, they are grouped by call area.

Write them direct for full information concerning their products. Tell them you saw their ad in the CALLBOOK.
(Advertisements listed herein appear as a service to radio amateurs and are not to be interpreted as an endorsement by the CALLBOOK of either the advertiser or their products).

BEAM POWER

for All Powers

Whether you're on SSB, AM, or CW—QRP or QRO—there's an RCA beam power tube for every amateur transmitter power level and for frequencies to 450 Mc and beyond.

Beam power tubes make it practical to build compactness into your rig. They do the job with fewer stages, less expensive components, fewer controls. RCA beam power tubes deliver the power with relatively low plate voltages. Thousands of commercial transmitters prove out these facts.

For more useable "transmitter watts" for your dollars, "Socket-up" with RCA beam power tubes. Check the chart at the right for the types you need—and order direct from your RCA Industrial Tube Distributor.
